Dear Mike,

On behalf of all the cast, crew, and staff here at CHEERS, I want to express our thanks for the truly great job of writing you did on the Postal Service episode.

When nobody found out until very late on the morning of the taping that Ted Danson had come down with chicken pox, we were resigned that the show would have to be scrubbed until it could either be re-scripted and a new tape-date scheduled, or Ted recovered, whichever came first. Needless to say, we were all amazed at the marvelous job of last-minute editing and rewriting you managed to pull off, over the telephone, yet!

As you will see on the enclosed VHS dub, the episode played as smoothly and as funny as the one you originally scripted would have. Furthermore, you'll be gratified to learn that as soon as we wrapped you were applauded in absentia by the entire cast. It was a hell of a "shoestring catch," Mike.

Best personal regards,
